

How To Use Enteral Low Dose Syringes To Avoid Overdosing

The syringe should be filled using a bottle adaptor or straw to keep the syringe tip (moat) clear of fluid. You must check the moat is clear of any excess fluid before administration. Tap/flick the syringe until the excess fluid has been fully removed from the moat.

Endorsed by the EPSG (Enteral Plastics Safety Group)